It's lonely at the top, but it doesn't have to be.

You can be in a room each month with other CEOs, presidents, and executives who are running businesses and facing challenges both professionally and personally just like you.

VISTAGE

And thanks to technology, you can join us in person or remotely! In a confidential, non-competitive, industry-exclusive setting, I facilitate meetings of select executives who are committed to one thing and one thing only: helping each other succeed while simultaneously growing their businesses and leading more fulfilling lives.

My Rules:

- (1) You must have a growth mindset;
- (2) You must be willing to be vulnerable;
- (3) You must have high integrity; and
- (4) The room isn't big enough for a giant ego.

About Claudia

Throughout my career as an attorney, I loved the coaching and counseling side of my job. I loved working directly with my clients, helping them solve problems creatively, coaching them through challenging situations, or even helping them understand all of the different ways they could approach what might seem like a difficult conversation with a team member or colleague.

So, I proverbially took off my lawyer hat and put on my consulting hat so that I could focus solely on building relationships to help clients prevent the problems I once helped them solve as an attorney – becoming better leaders, building better company cultures, and leading more fulfilling lives one day at a time.

Lead better. Work together.

Some of my clients are my Friends while some are strangers taking a chance based on a referral or recommendation. As with all great relationships, when there is mutual respect and trust, loyalty abounds. Let's be Friends!
